Professional services agreements are the foundation of proper risk management for all design professionals. Are risks — risks that cannot be properly managed — being shifted to you?

Agenda

- Typical contract clauses that shift risks to the design professional
- Contract provisions that appropriately allocate risks
- Tips on how to negotiate these clauses with the client

Who should participate?

CEO's, CFO's, principals, project managers and anyone responsible for a firm's risk management.

Learn how to:

- Identify the client's risk shifting clauses
- Articulate why these clauses are problematic
- Use contractual language that appropriately allocates the risks between the design professional and client

This program is a webinar presented by the Victor O. Schinnerer Webinar Series.
